No favoritism will be shown whatever it matters little to us to whom we present these prizes; the subscriptions are what we are after. Send in your nominations at once, or go to work and help those already nominated.

MYSTIC SUPPER

Given at Masonic Hall in Middletown Last Week—An Elaborate and Enjoyable Affair.

Middletown, Jan. 20.—There was a Mystic Supper given at the Masonic Hall Tuesday evening by the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church. Every one had a most enjoyable time.

The tables were beautifully decorated in green and white; the menu cards were quite mysterious; for instance, those who ordered a "Mister's Delight" received fried chicken, etc. A game of checkers was played, with young men and ladies for the checkers.

Then a prize was offered to the young lady who made the best original rhyme. There was a tie between Miss Minnie Jones and Miss Laura Cardwell, which was decided by the young men casting votes at a penny a vote. Great excitement was created. Miss Cardwell winning the most votes, received the prize, which was a beautiful cake, costing over $25.

The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Methodist parsonage.

Publication Day Not Changed.

Since our announcement last week we have been notified by the postmaster at this place, that we can not get the papers away from here until late Friday evening, consequently we will not change the day of publication from Thursday, to Friday, as stated in our last issue. We are compelled to meet the Thursday evening mail in order to reach all the subscribers before Monday. This is caused by the morning train not stopping at Jeffersontown.

We request our correspondents to write to us only, and mail them so they will reach this office not later than Monday evening. We have received several complaints of having so many items of visitors, and unless of those visiting from a great distance, we prefer not to have them sent in. However, we want each community represented, and trust that we may receive a NEWS letter each week.

Can the Governor Appoint?

The Glasgow Times: Certain of its friends are taking issue with The Glasgow Times on its assertion that provided there is no election by the present Legislature, Gov. Wilson will appoint Senator McCreary's successor.

Section three of the Constitution of the United States reads: "The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the Legislature there of, for six years, * * * and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any state, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which will then fill such vacancies."

Senator McCreary's term expires March 4, 1909. There will be no session of the Kentucky Legislature that year. There is a vacancy in the Senate, caused by "otherwise" during a recess of the Legislature. If the English language means anything, it is clear that Gov. Wilson has the right to appoint if the Legislature fails to elect.

LEGISLATURE

Same Old Story In the Contest For Senator.

Representative Nichols, of Ballard and Carlisle Counties, offered a Petition Opposing the Repeal of the Dog Law.

The joint ballot in the Senatorial race Wednesday resulted as follows: Beckham, 57; Bradley, 57; Col. J. R. Allen, of Lexington, 7; John C. Mays, of Paintsville, 1. Two bolters have been added to the list—W. F. Klair and W. W. Hopkins—and it appears as if the Democratic nominee is losing support. The deadlock, no doubt, continues throughout the session. *

Senator Brown of Gallatin, introduced the most unusual bill of this session of the Legislature last week. It provides that no one shall grow a crop of tobacco in 1908 without first securing a license to do so from the County Clerk, and the license fee to be $50 per acre for each were grown. If this bill passes, which however, is not very likely, it will absolutely insure that no tobacco will be grown in Kentucky this year.

Among the most important bills that have been introduced are the following:

IN THE SENATE.

Brown—Act to require growers of tobacco to pay a license of $50 per acre to grow tobacco in 1908.

Newman—To amend the act preventing the mixing or adulteration of grass seeds by allowing mixed seed to be sold, if so marked.

Newman—Act to amend section 435, Kentucky Statutes, by requiring contract to repair county roads be let to lowest bidder.

McNutt—To establish the office or assistant physician to jail in Louisville.

Donaldson—Act to prevent anyone licensed to sell liquor from conducting any other business in the same with his liquor license. (Aimed at drug stores and groceries.)

Neil—Act to amend the local option law by providing that distillers can sell at the place of manufacture only to wholesalers or licensed retail dealers.

Linn—Act qualifying women to vote in school elections.

Burnam—Act appropriating $40,000 for state colored normal school.

Burnam—Act to amend the dog tax law by fixing the tax at fifty cents per dog and allowing the Sheriff to pay the tax direct to the treasurer without reporting to the Auditor.

Bosworth—Act appropriating $50,000 for a new Governor's mansion in South Frankfort and to sell the present mansion and grounds.

IN THE HOUSE.

Dowling—An act creating a State School Board Commission for use in the public schools a uniform series of text books, to define the duties of said commission and the maximum price of said books, and providing penalties for violation of the same.

Anusement was caused by the introduction of Representative Thompson's long expected bill regulating the speed of automobiles on public highways. Also another bill repealing the dog law.

Mr. Thompson's measure fixes the maximum speed of automobiles and other motor vehicles at ten miles an hour. In addition to a heavy fine for a violation of this act the owner of the motor vehicle is made subject to damages in a civil action, should he injure another.

Berkshire—Amending the game law. Fish, Forestry and Game.

Hawself—Making it unlawful to sell, barter, loan, give, make, manufacture or have in his possession, or under his control, a cigarette, whether made by hand or manufactured, whether of tobacco or other substance, covered with paper or other material. A fine not less than $10 or more than $100 or imprisonment from five to fifty days is provided for violation.

Gwathmey—An act to aid in the prevention of and settlement of strikes and lockouts in mines and industries, and to regulate public utilities. This act is modeled after the Canadian law on this subject. Under it the Governor shall appoint a arbitrator and board of conciliation and investigation, when an employer or employee makes application for same. The act is in such detail that the board has every power to act, and under it there would be little excuse for a contest in the nature of a strike getting into the courts.

Patrick—Stipulating that subsection 2 of section 3, Kentucky Statutes, shall be repealed. The section stipulates who shall solemnize marriage.

Hutcheson, Jr.—Providing for the placing of a statue to Daniel Boone in the State statutory hall at Washington.

Gwathmey—Preventing the crowding or overloading beyond their seating capacity of cars provided by railroad companies for transportation of passengers, and to prevent any increase in the rates now in effect or the withdrawal from sale of certain tickets in retaliation.

Hannah—Prohibiting first or second cousins from marrying.

Cornett—An act to prevent and punish the desecration of the flag, standard, color or insignia of the United States of America.

Nichols, of Ballard and Carlisle, offered a petition from citizens of Ballard opposing the repeal of the dog law.

Endow—Prohibiting the issuing of passes (free mileage) on any railroad or steamboat line.

Harris—An act to increase the efficiency of the office of Mine Inspector and protect the lives and health of the employees.

Sullivan—Providing that the nearest Circuit Judge shall sit in the absence of a Circuit Judge, and that the Governor shall not appoint any special Judge.

Sullivan—Providing for the continuation of the Geological Topographical and Agricultural Survey of the State Geological Society.

An important bill that will be introduced this session, will be the one providing a new method of holding state primary elections. It will provide that both political parties must nominate all candidates for state offices on the same day and that day shall be general registration day, that the registration shall be extended so that every voter in city and county must register, and the registration officers shall also serve as primary election officers, thus saving the expense of three sets of officers.

The bill further provides that the state shall pay the expense of holding the primaries, thus giving a poor man a chance to make a race without having to borrow enough money to put up his entrance fee. The state now pays the expenses of registration in the cities, and it is contended that the additional expense would not be great enough to offset the merit of such a bill.

For The Jeffersonian

LINES TO A HOUSEHOLD PRIESTESS.

Poets love to sing of youth and loveliness. Of beauty's charms and winning tenderness: But now I turn to one, enriched with all the scepticities that our hearts enthrall.

A Princess in the royal court of home Whom dear ones for aid and guidance

A voice that glides upon the listening ear, In tones of silvery softness sweet and clear

A Priestess guarding household duties. And serving well its sacred fealties.

A soul that charms like moonlight on the sea, And souths like fragrant vespers on the lea.

And thou dost wear the coronet of gems, More beauteous far than queenly diadems;

The Christian graces, woman's sweetest charm, Holding the heart forever pure and warm.

The hearts of father, brothers, sisters dear All to you, and to me, to all to thee.

The home of the life thy love has given, Are leading Heavenward all in touch with thee.

WHAT THE FLOWERS SAID.

We come to thee as messengers, For in our beauty blinds.

The one dear wish, so purely sweet,

Our loving Master sends.

Then take me—nature's simple key To read each sacred thought;

A pledge of something dearer far

Than earthly treasures we have brought.

And it can help to heart One third of pleasure, one sense.

Then blast is He whose kindly art Did thus our beauties blend.

And tho' from earth we perish soon,

As is the common fate,

May memory of us waken still

The joy we now create.

Correction.

In the obituary notice of Miss Mary McDowell last week The Jeffersonian stated that the deceased was survived by one sister, Miss Creary. It should have read: One half sister, Mrs. Ida Cleary, and one sister, Mrs. Judith Frederick, of near town. How's This?

The Jeffersonian for some time has been publishing glowing descriptions of the Jefferson county soil, stating among other things, that its fertility was the best in the country. To substantiate these claims we have on exhibition in our office a parsonal over two feet in length. It was grown by J. T. Markwell on his farm in the Cane Run neighborhood, and measures two feet and three inches.

Eastwood, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Catherine Bouleware Melone, aged 84, died at her home Monday. The funeral will be held at her late home near Eastwood; the services were conducted by the Rev. E. C. Savage of the Tunnel Hill E. church, of which she had been a member for 65 years. The burial was in the family burying ground. Mrs. Melone was one of the oldest residents of this section. She left a widow in 1861 with six children, of whom all survive her—Fannie Melone, Beld Melone, Jeff D. Melone, W. W. Melone, Mrs. Sallie Cawder and Daisy Miller; grand-children, great-grandchildren and three adopted sisters, Mrs. Lucinda Yeager, 90, of New Castle, Mrs. Besse Purnell, 82, of Pendleton, and Mrs. Mary Williams, 79, of Louisville.

Keep in Postage Stamps.

The postmasters of the county desire to call the attention of some patrons of rural delivery of placing loose coins in their boxes each time they desire to dispatch letters, in stead of supplying themselves with postage in advance of their needs. This plan imposes undue hardship on rural carriers in removing loose coins from boxes and delays them on the service of their routes.

The postmasters, therefore, urgently request that patrons of rural delivery keep in their boxes and on their boxes a supply of stamps consistent with and in advance of their needs.

It is also very desirable that rural patrons place in mail boxes small detachable cups of wood or tin which will hold coins when necessary, in place to coins, when necessary, in place to coins.

As Well as Could Be Expected.

Lawrenceburg News: O. C. McKay, the liveryman, strayed into the News office yesterday morning and after a short time was admitted as a permanent fixture. He is a son of a man who for many years was a liveryman in Lawrenceburg, and for a few minutes like a loosed Texas steer, he finally got his bearings and informed us that he had a real live steer, and that he knew where he ought to have it published or not.

"But I can't keep from telling everybody about it, for it might as well be published. The steer is a new boy at my house, and he's dandy—Hugh Trent McKay. Everybody's doing nicely, except me, and the doctor says I'm to sober down after a while, but he says I'll never look no more."

Mr. McKay is well known here, where he has relatives and many friends who hope he will finally get all right.

O. G. WHIZZ.

No Station, Jan. 27.—Now, wasn't Sunday last somewhat of a day for various weather? Wind blew, sure. Why, it got so high that we thought every minute would be the next.

Next Sunday will be groundhog day. Look out for squalls. Say, by the way, February is a very peculiar month. It is the coldest month, the coldest, has at least three noted days—New Year's, Washington's birthday, Valentine's day and also has the odd day to give to make leap year, and give the girls a chance. Look out, Mr. Editor, you are liable to be taken [It's up to the girls, brother.—Ed.]

Quite a peculiar winter we are having. Not much snow for the zero and big sleet blar, but, you bet, in the warm winter "Annasias" is getting in his best licks and working double time.

Some parties talk electric line, eat electric line and dream electric line. They refuse to eat unless they have a time-table and won't get up unless a bell is rung.

Oh, isn't it awful how awfully the world is used? Awfully cold, awfully hot, awfully cute, awfully horrid, awfully sweet, awfully good, awfully bad, awfully big, awfully small, awfully smart, awfully dull, in fact, it is just perfectly and awfully awful, how awful the awful word is used.

Some persons are inquiring if the new electric line will grant stopovers on through tickets to Louisville, good at any saloon.

The electric car craze is assuming giant proportions in this immediate vicinity, but thank fortune the passengers are harmless. If the area should become violent, the lines will be taken from the big Fern Creek barn and the unfortunate ones who are car crazy will be tied in the stalls and fed on a diet of rebate tickets, slices of the cut, chunks of the fill and small pieces of the grade. If that don't bring relief a guard will be placed over them until the car comes in. (Wonder if I will be on?)

Mr. Will Johnson has been secured as solicitor for the catalogue of the Jefferson County Fair Co. for 1908. When he calls to see you ready to help us by giving him the glad hand and a liberal "ad," and we will pray for another like you.

A good many persons have the grip and others are taking it. But "Always-ready-to-run" W. B. Fryer is fast losing his grip, as witness the effect after taking or talking three big doses of Kentucky Democracy—three before election and one after.

The Legislature ought to be allowed only a few days for the deadlock business—and their period should be stopped and a fine of day should be assessed for each day foolish.

There is too much of this "party business." Pap voted that way, and by Heck, I will, too. Too much "yellow dog" and straight ticket. Vote the way you think best, party or no party, and we will have a better country and better officers. Better scratch the ticket than to have those who flourish by your party vote; scratch the very life out of you, together with every dollar you get.

A big excitement is being started around Louisville on account of a station on the new road being called "Waterson." Our people have had enough of Waterson, yet, it is constantly before us. One of our citizens says he will spend a week with a petition for a change of name, and unless the name is changed he will walk. Several names have been suggested—Yeager Lane, Meddin Lane, 8-mile Lane, Hill, and "Tacle" John, suggests Gray Lane; another Newt's Corner. In fact, any name except the one it now bears.

The Fern Creek Home Telephone Co. will soon commence a line to Jeffersonontown, meaning that it has come to stay for the time. But from some unknown cause it has been delayed. Although poles have been bought and also a wire, yet the thing "hangs fire." Now, if the new board wishes to wear a crown of glory, put the line through.

There is some talk of building a boulevard 60 feet wide from the city of Louisville to the Lincoln Farm, the birth-place of Abraham Lincoln. It is now owned by parties who expect to make a pleasure resort out of it. They want the counties to tax people to build fine pikes all to a grand center. Grand colossus scheme, more to enrich a combine than to honor the memory of Lincoln.

Will some kind and considerate person please inform us where the state fair is to be held this year? Do we let there? If the McDonald site is chosen. I suppose people will have to walk—especially those who can not swim, as the river flows alongside the site. The whistle of the train
